For its seventh year, musicians and activists came together for the Global Citizen Festival in New York City's Central Park in an effort to end poverty by 2030 and combat climate change.

This year's five-hour festival featured a lineup of Queen + Adam Lambert, Alicia Keys, Pharrell Williams and OneRepublic, with additional performances from Ben Platt, David Gray, Jon Batiste and French Montana.

Headliners Queen + Adam Lambert delivered a riveting performance of "Bohemian Rhapsody" at the Great Lawn, still riding off the high of the 2018 film.
